

Summary of capabilities

Bourgoin-Jallieu, France

We are delighted to welcome you to our Bourgoin site, an FDA-approved center of excellence for early and late-stage development and commercial manufacturing of oral solid dose (OSD) products with a specialization in high potency APIs. We partner with customers in the pharmaceutical, biotech, and life sciences industries as their trusted CDMO to deliver medicine to patients faster. We believe that doing this successfully not only requires science, technology, and world-class expertise, but also requires a strategic partnership—bonded by key elements such as trust, communication, and collaboration. We embed these elements into every operation, interaction, and step in the drug development journey.

Area attractions

Croix-Rousse District

The Croix-Rousse District is one of the most interesting features of the city and was one of the reasons why the city was once known as the “silk capital of the world.” The 15th century Romanesque-Gothic style Lyon Cathedral and the Croix-Rousse District of the city have been declared UNESCO World Heritage Sites, and the treasury within the cathedral is a listed French National Monument
